

The University of Edinburgh
DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY
and
THE INSTITUTE OF ADVANCED STUDIES IN THE HUMANITIES

Workshop on the Philosophy of the Enlightenment

Thursday, 25th May

9.30 – 10.30: M.A. Stewart (Philosophy, University of Aberdeen)
'Hume and the Historiography of Philosophy'

10.30 – 11.00: Coffee

11.00 – 12.00: John P. Wright (Philosophy, University of Edinburgh and Central Michigan University)
'The Science of Human Nature in George Turnbull and David Hume'

Lunch: 12-2

2.00 – 3.00: Hannah Dawson (Philosophy and History, University of Edinburgh)
'The impact of Locke's philosophy of language on his political project'

3.00 – 4.00: James Harris (Philosophy, University of St. Andrews)
'Butler and Reid on the Authority of Conscience'

4.00 - 4.30: Coffee

4.30 – 5.30: Thomas Ahnert (History, University of Edinburgh)
'The Connections between Religion, Moral Philosophy and History in William Robertson's Writings'

Venue: Institute for Advanced Studies in the Humanities, Hope Park Square, Edinburgh

No charge is made for this workshop, but registration is essential as space is limited. To register, email Dr Pauline Phemister (P.Phemister@ed.ac.uk). Please also indicate whether you wish to take lunch at the Kalpna restaurant (approx. cost £6).

Location details can be found at <http://www.iash.ed.ac.uk/map.html>. For further information contact John Wright (wrih1jp@cmich.edu) or Pauline Phemister (P.Phemister@ed.ac.uk).

